DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-15 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 is unclear in lines 6-13. Limitations in those lines are narrative and unclear.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-6,12-15 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Felter (682052) in view of Ex. Parte Breslow 192 USPQ 431.

Claim 1: Felter teaches a game board having piece positions in a six corner game area, each corner space connected to other corners and playing pieces. Felter teaches all limitation except that it does not teach a game area with seven corners and lines connected to other corners.

The examiner views the difference as a matter of printing. The difference between the applicant's game surface and the cited reference lies in information that are not considered patentable. The game surface is only a geometrical change from a five or a six corner space. One of ordinary skill in art at the time the invention was made would have suggested any geometrical shape by increasing or decreasing number of corners according to one's choice.

Claims 2-6,12,14,15 are rules for playing and do not further limit the apparatus in the claims.

Claim 13: Providing 42 pieces is only optimization and would have been obvious according to the choice.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 7-11 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
